Objectives

1. Ensuring, to the whole agricultural system of the main Trentino supply chains, a set of measures to reduce the effects of quantitative / qualitative production instability caused by the recurrence of extreme climatic events, with particular regard to spring frosts
2. Putting in synergy and close relationship, the potential of active and passive defense, in a logic of overall efficiency
3. Realizing a mix of active defense solutions that can be activated effectively using predictive models based on algorithms calibrated with ground measurements and satellite data. Special attention is paid to the consumption of water resources.
4. Studying passive defense tools such as mutual funds and insurance.
