Views from the Polish Rural Network

- What do you do when you get back to the office after a workshop / seminar organised by the EU CAP Network? Do you share /discuss with colleagues what happened in the event? What about your broader network?
- obligatory report from trips outside the office, any other site visits / cross-visits, or any participation in a governance meeting of the EU CAP Network
- event reports posted on the national network's website
- networking at EU CAP Network events has a value of its own – there is are many projects (e.g. Horizon, national projects) and research results that one learns about from informal interaction and from presentations at the EU CAP Network seminars and workshops. This knowledge can then be put to use in going deeper into certain topics as part of the national network's activities

Views from the Polish Rural Network

- review of the annual workplan of the EU CAP Network feeds into the national network's planning. It is possible that an EU CAP Network is 'replicated' at national level
- the results of the Thematic Groups and Focus Groups of the EU CAP Network – two possible levels of interaction:
 - a) the groups' reports can be translated into the national language;
 - b) invitation of individual participants in the groups' work to network events at the national or regional levels

Challenges in respect of achieving wider impact

- getting beyond our usual audience – are we just preaching to the converted?
- assessing longer-term impact of any event
- DG AGRI, the EU CAP Network, the national networks / the Managing Authorities in the members states face a similar conundrum and challenge
